Let's see what Whootie sees at Congaree!

Whootie flies into the office to find the Superintendent and the administrative officer very busy at their desks! They are often on the phones making plans for Congaree. They have to spend money carefully, buy equipment, and make plans for the park. The superintendent must know everyone well and be sure they do their jobs. It's a job for someone who loves our natural resources and wants others to love them too.
